Chairman's Message

Welcome to Ome Sweater OPC — a One Person Company (OPC) with over a decade of experience in the textile industry.

We hold ourselves to the strictest standards of quality and process, ensuring that every customer and every employee receives the greatest value and the very best the industry has to offer. Our highly skilled staff are proud to be part of a growing and consistently successful company — a pride reflected in the commitment and dedication of everyone involved in our operations.

We manufacture export-quality products that meet international standards, combining a diverse range of designs with the latest technology and a deeply qualified team. Ome Sweater places strong emphasis on eco-friendly production, adopting green technologies and sustainable practices throughout the facility.

Having served customers across America and Europe, we bring the experience that matters. Paired with rigorous quality-control measures, this has earned us a competitive edge — evident in both our products and our portfolio of satisfied customers. We are equally committed to the wellbeing of our people — providing meaningful benefits and maintaining a safe, healthy working environment.

We are continuously motivated to improve and to challenge ourselves to reach the next level. An uncompromising commitment to consistent quality, ongoing research and development, and sustainable growth has established us as a premier sweater manufacturer in our region. We look forward to expanding our horizons in a fair, sustainable, and honorable manner.

Quality Assurance

Ome Sweater OPC operates its own quality-assurance and efficiency-monitoring system to guarantee consistently superior products. By catching issues early, the system reduces rework, improves production efficiency, and identifies operators who would benefit from additional training.

Checkpoints at every stage of production safeguard quality, while reputed textile-testing laboratories assess raw materials for their physical and chemical properties. Our in-house QA team randomly inspects packed goods before the buyer's QA conducts the final inspection — so we stand behind the quality of every product we ship.
